Lentils: Immediate Trade One-Pager

Prepared for: topmost authority at target organisation | Source: meeting of 31 Oct 2026 (Vivek Patel, Bhavesh Patel, Vahid Bhai) | Status: DRAFT, figures pending

THE OPPORTUNITY

- Immediate lentil supply identified by Vivek Patel. Trade targeted to complete in under 90 days.
- Proposal: match confirmed supply with a confirmed buyer (dal miller, pulse processor or wholesale importer), either as a broker or by taking the position ourselves.

VISIBLE / PREDICTED SUPPLY PROBLEM

- Hypothesis to validate: pulse supply tightness in the domestic market, with India relying on imports for a significant share of lentil demand, and import duty and restriction rules for pulses that have changed several times in recent years.
- Data to add: domestic production estimate, stock levels, import volumes and origin mix, landed cost, duty status. [to fill from verified source]

TWO WAYS TO TRADE

A. Broking arrangement	Connect a verified overseas or domestic seller with a verified buyer and earn a commission. Low capital. Needs signed purchase intent before we commit.
B. Invest and trade	Buy the lot, then sell to a confirmed buyer for a margin. Higher capital and price risk. Start only after an offtake is confirmed.
Suggested sequence	Begin with A to build trust and track record. Move to B once buyer, price and documents are locked.

WHAT IS NEEDED TO PROCEED

- Supply side (Vivek Patel): quantity available, origin, grade and specification, price, shipment window, seller's name and documents.
- Demand side (Team, via Vahid Bhai): buyer's name, quantity, delivery and payment terms, intent letter.
- Compliance check (before commitment): current DGFT import status and customs duty, IEC, phytosanitary certificate, FSSAI requirements, letter of credit route.

TARGET COUNTERPARTIES

- Pulse millers and dal processors, Gujarat and Pan India. Wholesale pulse importers and multinational agri-traders.
- See the connect map (intelligence file) for named organisations. Contacts to be verified before outreach.

RISKS

- Duty or import-rule change mid-trade; shipment delay; quality rejection at port; price move between purchase and sale; counterparty default.

> Ask to the topmost authority: confirm interest in a lentil lot for a broking or offtake arrangement, under existing import rules, with a decision window of 2 to 3 weeks.
